* Part of Certificate in Change Management

This course provides understanding of the academic theory behind organisational change, giving managers the confidence to:

- take on a leadership role
- build on experience and integrate academic knowledge and practice skills
- engage in authoritative change management
- and effectively communicate change

- delivered in three teaching modules, the certificate is designed to fit around personal and professional commitments.
- Each short intensive module is assessed by a work-based project which contributes to an employer's business. All of the classroom teaching is workshop-based which promotes group discussion and the sharing of experience.

- The MSc programme combines two of the most exciting areas of management and leadership. It provides the knowledge and skills necessary for leading the practice of change and harnessing innovation. Key to the programme's philosophy is the deep connection between change and innovation and a focus on futures-oriented processes.
